

Teague's Tavern Run

Do any of you all like antiquing in the country? Well, that's nice to know, but since we're not an antiquing club, we are not going to do that on this trip! Instead we are going to run some of the best twisty backroads in several counties in Texas (Waller, Grimes, Austin, Washington and Fayette) and we will end up in Round Top. A town of about 610 acres and 90 people that Texas Monthly calls "The Aspen of Texas". We plan on stopping at a place called Teague's Tavern. It's somewhat of a new place (about 8 months old) but it does have some good food, drinks and music. They have a room upstairs that overlooks the Henkel Square. You may remember the owner from Network and Houston TV. He's none other than Don Teague, Emmy Award winning journalist and former anchor at Fox 26. If you are full and want to work off some of your food, and do some antiquing after, you'll be right there in Round Top. You'll just be a few steps to visit Henkel Square or any of the quaint shops like Maison Miral, Lark, Indian Creek or check out Nutmeg's for the grand kids. We hope that you can make the run.
